Art Unit: 3744

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 6, 8, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,494,055 to Meserole et al in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,234,351 to Wilcox. Meserole et al discloses the claimed invention of a frozen dessert apparatus which includes a cold storage bag 44 for containing the liquid mix and an air compression device 25a, 29a, 42 which supplies compressed air to force the mix out of the bag and into the freezing chamber 17. However, Meserole et al does not disclose that the bag includes an inner layer and an outer layer with the compression device supplying the compressed air between the layers. Wilcox teaches in Figs. 26-31 a dispensing device which uses compressed air through conduit 15 to supply compressed air to a bag which includes an outer layer 206 and an inner layer 201 to force the liquid in the bag to be dispensed. Thus, it would be obvious to modify Meserole et al so that the bag 44 includes two layers and the compressed air is supplied between the layers, in view of Wilcox, to yield the predictable result that the liquid is positively sealed in the bag by virtue of the two layers. The location of the combined passage member 35 of Meserole is considered to be a matter of obvious choice to one of ordinary skill in the art. No criticality or unexpected results are seen or have been disclosed for the location of the combined passage member being located in the cold storage.

Art Unit: 3744

3. Applicant's arguments filed February 13, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The location of the combined passage member being disposed in the cold storage is considered to be a mere matter of obvious choice to one of ordinary skill in the art. Applicant has not demonstrated any criticality or unexpected results for locating the combined passage member in the cold storage as opposed to any other convenient location.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
